- Group's reported net sales rose to Euro 9,086 million (+3.9% at constant exchange rates² and +2.8% at current exchange rates); fourth quarter accelerated from the third quarter, with net sales +5.2% at constant exchange rates² and +6.3% at current exchange rates
 - Wholesale segment's net sales: Euro 3,528 million for the full year (-0.4% at constant exchange rates² and -1.8% at current exchange rates); fourth quarter recovering from the third quarter, but revenues down 0.9% at constant exchange rates² and -0.1% at current exchange rates from the fourth quarter of 2015
 - Retail segment's net sales: Euro 5,558 million for the full year (+6.8% at constant exchange rates² and +6.0% at current exchange rates); fourth quarter accelerating from the third quarter with revenues up 8.9% at constant exchange rates² and +10.1% at current exchange rates compared to the 2015 period

Milan (Italy), January 30, 2017 – The Board of Directors of Luxottica Group S.p.A. (MTA: LUX; NYSE: LUX), a leader in the design, manufacture, distribution and sale of fashion, luxury and sports eyewear, met today to review the consolidated net sales and preliminary results for the fourth quarter of 2016 and the full fiscal year 2016 in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board.

Reported net sales for the full year 2016¹

(Millions of Euro)	FY 2015	FY 2016	Change at constant exchange rates ²	Change at current exchange rates
Group net sales	8,837	9,086	+3.9%	+2.8%
Wholesale segment	3,593	3,528	-0.4%	-1.8%
Retail segment	5,244	5,558	+6.8%	+6.0%

Reported net sales in the fourth quarter of 2016¹

(Millions of Euro)	4Q 2015	4Q 2016	Change at constant exchange rates ²	Change at current exchange rates
Group net sales	2,015	2,142	+5.2%	+6.3%
Wholesale segment	758	758	-0.9%	-0.1%
Retail segment	1,256	1,384	+8.9%	+10.1%

2016 was a year of change for the Group, as it carried out a number of initiatives to support the organizational simplification, efficiency and integration of its business, alignment of prices across markets and enhancement of its brand portfolio. In particular, the adoption of the "MAP policy" (Minimum Advertised Price) in North America has allowed the Group to strengthen the equity of its brands, enhance the quality of its distribution network and protect the business of wholesale customers.

During the year, the Group also made investments in developing its manufacturing and logistical infrastructure, supporting the entry into new markets and strengthening digital communications.

Luxottica ended the year with reported net sales of Euro 9,086 million, up 3.9% at constant exchange rates² (+2.8% at current exchange rates) despite a more uncertain macroeconomic environment. In the fourth quarter, net sales accelerated compared to the first nine months of the year.

In 2016, the Wholesale segment's net sales remained almost unchanged from the previous year at constant exchange rates². On the upside, the Retail segment delivered reported net sales growth of +6.8% at constant exchange rates² (+6.0% at current exchange rates). The Group's key retail chains continued to drive the industry's evolution towards innovative business models covering in-store, online and omnichannel, to offer consumers a more meaningful digital experience. Sunglass Hut confirmed its leadership in the sun segment with revenue growth of +8.1% at constant exchange rates², while LensCrafters in North America strengthened its brand equity and reported a net sales in US dollars increase of +1.3%. In Australia, a review of the assortments in OPSM stores proved successful during the year, with a gradual improvement in comparable store sales⁴. In Latin America, GMO maintained a solid growth trend.

The Group's e-commerce platforms in 2016 delivered excellent results, up by 24% at constant exchange rates². Ray-Ban.com, Oakley.com and SunglassHut.com further established themselves as the consumer favorites for buying branded eyewear online.

In the fourth quarter of 2016, the Group's sales showed an acceleration compared to the previous quarters of 2016, with reported revenue growth of +5.2% at constant exchange rates² (+6.3% at current exchange rates). An increase in performance in both Europe and Latin America was achieved through effective customer service delivered in each region, while the Wholesale division in North America benefited from the first positive effects of the "MAP policy" and the integration of the Oakley sports channel. In China, Luxottica continued the rationalization of its distribution network, terminating relationships with a number of local distributors.

"We are very pleased with the results of 2016, especially given that they were achieved in a year of major investments and initiatives to improve the quality of the Company and we expect to report a higher net profit on a year-over-year adjusted^{3,5} basis", commented Leonardo del Vecchio, Executive Chairman, and Massimo Vian, CEO for Product and Operations of Luxottica Group.

"The courageous decisions taken in the last two years and the investments aimed at improving the Group's offering with more innovative and excellent products and services are reflected in the net sales generated during the final months of the year, showing an improvement especially in North America. The first few weeks of 2017 confirm the Group's prospects for healthy growth that we expect will accelerate during the year.

The Luxottica of today is a stronger, simpler and more efficient company, with a faster decision-making process. We are preparing to take a major step forward in the realization of our vision: to offer a product that finds the reason for its success in the integration of frame and lenses”.

Geographic segments: net sales and trends in 2016

North America

In 2016, net sales^{3,5} at constant exchange rates² in North America were up 0.8%. The results were driven by the Retail segment's growth, which more than offset the decline in the Wholesale segment (-2.6% at constant exchange rates²) due to the adoption of the "MAP policy". Benefits from this initiative were already visible in the fourth quarter, which saw an acceleration in sales at constant exchange rates² of +5.5% and +3%, respectively, for the Wholesale segment and the whole Group, a sharp contrast with the third quarter. The Retail segment ended the year with +1.7% growth^{3,5} at constant exchange rates², thanks to the positive performance of LensCrafters and Sunglass Hut.

Europe

In 2016, Europe confirmed its positive trend with net sales up 6.9% at constant exchange rates². There was also an acceleration in fourth quarter sales, +12% at constant exchange rates². During the year, the Wholesale segment posted net sales up by 2.8% at constant exchange rates², driven in particular by Italy, the UK, Spain and Eastern Europe. The Retail segment increased its weight in the region, up by 28% in net sales at constant exchange rates². This is due to the strong performance of Sunglass Hut, with comparable store sales⁴ up by 9%, and approximately 100 new store openings, including 57 stores in Galeries Lafayette.

Asia-Pacific

The region's results were affected by the deep distribution network restructuring in Mainland China, where the termination of relationships with a number of distributors resulted in the withdrawal of goods from the marketplace in the fourth quarter for a value greater than 30% of quarterly sales. Although the Chinese market returned to positive growth in the first few weeks of 2017, last year's restructuring resulted in a decrease of 1.9% in Asia-Pacific in 2016 at constant exchange rates². Southeast Asia, India and Japan confirmed solid growth for the year. The Retail segment, by contrast, in Mainland China registered a strong increase in sales substantially driven by the successful launch of new Ray-Ban stores (47 as of December 31, 2016). The Group in Australia reported a strong performance in terms of comparable stores sales⁴ for Sunglass Hut and OPSM, the latter accelerating sequentially throughout the year, peaking in the last three months of the year thanks to newly implemented assortment policies.

Latin America

Latin America's strong trend during the first nine months continued into the fourth quarter with sales up by 10% at constant exchange rates² in the year. Mexico remains among the fastest growing countries for the Group, with double-digit growth at constant exchange rates². Brazil continued to generate growing sales in 2016 despite the current unfavorable economic situation. In the twelve-month period ended December 31, 2016, the Retail segment posted double-digit growth at constant exchange rates², thanks to the favorable performance in comparable store sales⁴ of GMO and Sunglass Hut in Mexico and the Andean region also in the fourth quarter.

Notes to the press release

1 Comparisons, including percentage changes, are between the three and twelve-month periods ended December 31, 2016 and 2015.

2 Figures at constant exchange rates have been calculated using the average exchange rates in effect for the corresponding period in the previous year. For further information, please refer to the attached tables.

3 Adjusted net sales is not a measure in accordance with IFRS. For further information, please refer to the attached tables.

4 "Comps" or "Comparable store sales" reflect the change in sales from one period to another that, for comparison purposes, includes in the calculation only stores open in the more recent period that also were open during the comparable prior period, and applies to both periods the average exchange rate for the prior period and the same geographic area.

5 The adjusted data for the three-month and twelve-month periods ended December 31, 2015 does not take into account a change in the presentation of a component of EyeMed net sales that was previously included on a gross basis and in 2015 was included on a net basis due to a change in the terms of an insurance underwriting agreement (the “EyeMed adjustment”), resulting in a reduction to net sales on a reported basis of approximately Euro 44.2 million in the three-month period and approximately Euro 174.3 million in the twelve-month period ended December 31, 2015. The EyeMed adjustment is not applicable, commencing with the first quarter of 2016, due to a modification to this insurance underwriting agreement.

Luxottica Group S.p.A.

Luxottica is a leader in the design, manufacture and distribution of fashion, luxury and sports eyewear. The Company reported adjusted net sales to take into account the impact of sales from the EyeMed division in 2015. Following the modification of an EyeMed reinsurance agreement with an existing underwriter, the Group assumed less reinsurance revenues and less claims expense in 2015. The impact of this contract for the three-month period and twelve-month period ended December 31, 2015 was, respectively, Euro 44.2 million and Euro 174.3 million (the "Eyemed adjustment"). The EyeMed adjustment is not applicable, commencing with the first quarter of 2016, due to a modification to this insurance underwriting agreement.

The Company believes that adjusted measures are useful to both management and investors in evaluating the Company's performance compared with that of other companies in its industry. The adjusted measure referenced above is not a measure of performance in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IFRS). This adjusted measure is included in this presentation in order to provide a supplemental view of operations that excludes items that are unusual, infrequent or unrelated to our ongoing core operations. This adjusted measure is not meant to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for items appearing on our financial statements prepared in accordance with IFRS. Rather, any non-IFRS measure should be used as a supplement to IFRS results to assist the reader in better understanding the operational performance of the Company. The Company cautions that any adjusted measure is not a defined term under IFRS and any definition should be carefully reviewed and understood by investors. Investors should be aware that Luxottica Group's method of calculating any adjusted measure may differ from methods used by other companies. The Company recognizes that there are limitations in the usefulness of adjusted measures due to the subjective nature of items excluded by management in calculating adjusted comparisons. We compensate for the foregoing limitations by using any adjusted measure as a comparative tool, together with IFRS measures, to assist in the evaluation of our operating performance.
